

Scope it before touching anything. Once you have changed something you can no longer tell what the fault was.