

A host that answers ARP for an address it does not own then reads everyone's traffic. What stops that?