

Three VLANs carry a tag that says which they are.
The native VLAN carries none — so both ends must agree what it is.